Action Asked On Proposed MV District

A request has been made to the Board of Supervisors that the election for approval or disapproval of the proposed Morongo Valley Community Services District be held July 24, it was announced at the Property Owners Assn. meeting May 17.

COLVIN OPEN HOUSE IS SET

Luther H. Colvin, who last week announced the opening of Sunny Mesa Estates, will hold open house from 4-8 p.m. May 23 to celebrate the opening of his new offices on the Twentynine Palms highway, next door to Callahan's.

The new offices, in a modern decor and following a desert theme, will serve Yucca Valley and the high desert. General contractor for construction was Earl Deal.

Colvin, who came to Yucca Valley for his health in 1954, has been associated with the real estate business here since 1956.

Colvin is active in the Yucca Valley Community Church and is serving his second year as chairman of the church board of directors. He is a member of the Lions Club and played an important part in getting the ambulance for Yucca Valley, sponsored by that service club.

Teacher Approval Voted By Board

Members of the Morongo School District Board of Trustees meeting May 19 voted to approve recommendations for Morris P. Lawson, W. Eugene Hedley, Richard Auclair, June Martin and Arnold E. Martin as classroom teachers in the new Morongo Unified School District.

In other action, the board approved the graduation date for the Yucca Valley Elementary School as June 9, and the Twentynine Palms Elementary School as June 10; approved the notice of acceptance and notice of completion for the Oasis Elementary School.

The board was informed that the opening of bids for the remodeling of heating for the old wings at the Yucca Valley and Twentynine Palms Schools would be done at the regular board meeting June 3.

With his wife, Jewel, Stewart lives on Pawnee in Yucca Valley.

Parade Sets Pace For Two Day Celebration

Grubstake Days got off to a grand start May 17 when the western parade traveled the length of the valley from Yucca Valley Lumber to the new bank building, stringing some 112 entries out in a dazzling display of color and pageantry.

At the close of the parade, awards and prizes were given out at the midway and the festival was officially on. From 2 p.m. the crowds watched men and their horses go through their paces at the gymkhana.

Outstanding performance of the afternoon was "Bullfight on Horseback" presented by the Roulettes of La Puente, an all-woman riding group.

Then the games began. There was a stock horse contest, boot race, musical chairs, stake races, rawhide races, bull riding, baton races and matched pairs.

There was sun, sun, and more sun; also there was cotton candy, soft drinks, beer, pie ala mode, ice cups and hot dogs. There was (Continued on Page 8)

Extension Of Highway 187 Is Requested

A group of 14 residents from the Greater Morongo Basin met in Apple Valley May 7 with the California State Senate Interim Committee on Extensions to the State Highway System and heard a recommendation that State Highway 187 be extended to Route 146 Highway 75, near Vidal.

The recommendation, presented by Don Haislet in a letter from the Baseline Highway Improvement Assn., would add 98 miles to the state system along the Twentynine Palms Highway from its present terminus at Morongo Lodge.

Representatives from the Morongo Valley Property Owners Assn. and the Joshua Tree Chamber of Commerce also spoke in support of the recommendation.

Also of interest to local residents was the recommendation of the Rim Rock Property Owners Assn. that the present road from Pioneertown, through Rim Rock, to Big Bear be improved and added to the state system.

Sen. Swift Barry, chairman, and Sen. Raymond Gregory of the committee, urged those present to send recommendations in writing to the committee while the survey was being made.

Action on the extension of the state highway system will be taken after the interim committee makes its report to the legislature during the session beginning in January, 1959, Sen. Barry said.

Those attending the conference from the high desert were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tripodo, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lillie, Mrs. Rose Crescent and Mrs. Aubrey Sippert.

President Dick Wilson of the Apple Valley Chamber of Commerce, was host for the meeting, which was called to hear of problems in local areas not relating to major highway networks.

HOME SOLD

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hansen, of Morongo Valley, have sold their home in Juniper Heights and will leave this week for Soap Lake, Wash.

JoAnn Cruise Queen Winner

After a hotly-contested race, the votes for Queen of the National Turtle Races to be held in Joshua Tree June 20-21-22 have been counted and the winsome winner is Miss JoAnn Cruise, a sophomore attending Twentynine Palms High School. Her sponsors were the Upsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Young ladies who will be princesses are Sandra Groves, Louise Goen, Sharon Zinnamon, Sheila McCormick and Sharon Cummings, all residing in Joshua Tree and Sunfair.

And Joshua Tree is literally crawling with turtles, the miniature kind that pin on your coat and are not to be brushed off lightly. The turtles have a number on the back and the right number is good for $25, which anybody can use. The price of the turtle - 25 cents, which anybody has.

Congratulations To...

May 29 and the candidate filing deadline will be June 20, dates fixed by the election code, it was explained.

It was pointed out that only those who reside within the boundaries of the district as they will be finally approved at the hearing May 26 are qualified to vote in the election.

The association, which now has 403 members, also announced that papers of incorporation are now being processed and are expected to be completed by the next meeting.

After incorporation, one of the first steps to be taken by the association will be the installation of a water cart in the east end of the valley, probably at Al Bieker's Signal station, association president Edward P. Jones said this week.

Membership in the property owners association will not be a requirement for those who use the water, Jones said.

It was made clear that the water cart would be available, at a slight charge for maintenance, for those who need water.

It was also announced that $63.95 was collected from the "beer can savings" plan instituted by the association in February. Mrs. Verna Eversmeyer won a prize for the heaviest can turned in; Mr. and Mrs. William D. Runyon won a prize for the can with the most money in it.

Error In Letter Corrected Later

An error in a letter to the Twentynine Palms County Water District that received widespread publicity in the high desert last week, this week was corrected in a letter from Harold Zenz, San Bernardino County administrative officer.

The original letter referred to discussed fire districts and stated: "... other communities such as Joshua Tree, Yucca Valley, Morongo, Bloomington, Yermo, Dagget and many more provide their own service by local taxes." The letter correcting this statement said:

"Morongo Valley was included and, therefore, the sentence should have read '... or by local contributions and volunteers.'"

Morongo Valley's fire department, a volunteer organization, this month will open its annual campaign for contributions, the only income available for its operation.

Vets Schedule Meeting May 22

Morongo Valley Barracks No. 1222, Veterans of World War I will meet at 8 p.m. May 22 at the Community Hall. This is a change from the usual Saturday date, due to the fact the Hall was not available.

The Ladies Auxiliary will meet in the adjoining kitchen at the same time.

Next objective of this newest of veterans organizations is the purchase of a stand of colors and ways and means will be discussed at Thursday's meeting.

SPAGHETTI DINNER

The dedication of the Community Hall kitchen will be held in an appropriate manner May 26 when the Morongo Valley Women's Social Club and the Community Hall Board of Directors sponsor a spaghetti and meat ball dinner from 5 to 9 p.m.

Cole slaw, garlic bread, coffee and pie, in addition to the entree, are being served for the moderate price of $1.25 for adults and 70 cents for children.

The public is invited.

Volunteer Honored

The Covington Park committee this week pinned a rose on Mrs. Elsie Haight, whose tireless efforts at the park have produced a rose garden that is something everyone in the valley should see.

Then, taking a deep breath, the committee asked that anyone interested in working at the park — a couple of hours here, a couple more there — get in touch with Hugh Thompson, construction chairman. The snack bar is coming along in fine shape, but Thompson says that he needs assurance of the "couple of hours" from more than two or three persons to complete the job.

LAST IN HALL

This week's Friday night movie, May 23, will feature Bert Gordon, the Mad Russian, in "Let's Have Fun." In addition, there will be a Punch and Judy cartoon and a travelogue on Lake Louise.

This will be the last movie to be shown in the Community Hall this season. Weather permitting, the movies will be shown at Covington Park during the summer.

'Rockhound' Club Holds Field Trip

By MELODY D. SCOTT

The alarm went off at 4:30 on one of those beautiful, clear desert mornings. One hour later my friend and I started from Morongo Valley eastward past Twentynine Palms on the Baseline Highway and then to Vidal Junction where we met 18 more Morongoans and several Yucca Valley folks.

This was to be the first field trip since the formation of the new "Hi-Desert Rockhound Club" on April 22 at Morongo Valley Community Hall. Here we also met and were the guests of the Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral Society of Palm Desert, our host and hostess being the president, Herb Ovits and his wife, Bessie.

We set up camp about six miles from the junction and immediately headed for the chalcodony beds with specimen bags and canteens. A little more than a mile from camp we came to numerous washes and small hills strewn with rock of granite and volcanic mixture.

In this rock, broken by centuries of extreme weather changes, we found our little prizes. Some were bubbly sheets of lava glass, others were small pearly buttons or dew drops, or small hunks of white crystals like sugar coated candy, but the choice finds were the little roses, sometimes single and sometimes like small nose-gays—still others were cornucopia shaped.

We returned to camp for noon-day chuck with bulging specimen bags and smiling, sun burned faces. Lunch was prepared in record time at the Shadow Mountain chuck wagon, a complete kitchen on wheels.

More hunting was done in the cool hours of the afternoon in the same place.

The following day carried us farther along the road taken previously to other beds of roses in brown and white tones—due to an iron deposit in this area. Then another surprise—Jasper—in red, yellow and green tones.

Our thanks to our friends of the Shadow Mountain group for guiding us to the source of such splendid display pieces and trade pieces.

I should like very much to go on about the other wonders of nature we all enjoyed on this trip such as wildflower blossoms, hazy smoke trees, the palo verde in full bloom glowing golden in the sun, distant, rugged mountains, magenta, mauve and indigo

—sometimes rolling lazily, other times jutting grotesquely and impressively up into the skies, or interesting animals and insects, many of which we had never before seen or heard, but this was a field trip for gem stones, minerals, specimens and the like.

Where else but in our desert could we share all these wonderful things of nature in one short, enjoyable journey?

HUGE DEVELOPMENT STARTED ON SHORES OF SALTON SEA

Opening of Salton City, 19,600-acre tract on the shores of the Salton Sea, California's largest inland body of water, will mark the first major step in the development of a resort with facilities to meet the needs of thousands of water skiers and enthusiasts, who flock to the shoreline every weekend.

On May 17, M. Penn Phillips, prominent California developer, opened Salton City along six miles of shoreline of the most accessible, largest body of water available to skiers in Southern California.

Phillips plans for early construction of harbor facilities and a huge community center with shopping facilities is good news for the hosts of water skiers who camp four trailers deep along Salton Sea shores to enjoy precious hours on the warm salt water.

Despite the adoption of the Salton Sea, situated 25 miles south of Indio, by increasing numbers of aquatic sportsmen, no developer has installed the facilities to service the hordes of visitors. Even with the lack of accommodations, devotees of the family sport have slept on the white beaches and cooked their food over campfires.

Interviews with water skiers reveal that sportsmen have been awaiting the happy day when a major developer would tackle the job of creating a fully equipped resort so that sportsmen might enjoy the multi-sport recreation center.

The aquatic fans report that they prefer Salton Sea because of its proximity to the metropolitan area, its availability by freeways, and most important, the uniformly warm weather in the winter.

"While other ski resorts face chilly weather, we can find comfortable warm weather, and relatively warm water at Salton Sea," commented Adrian Duke, avid skier from San Bernardino, who notes that skiers glide over the water at a rate of 20-40 m.p.h. Size of the 340-square-mile sea allows skiers ample space for maximum participation in meets that include slalom courses, distance contests and jumps.

Salton Sea, elevation 244 feet below sea level, attracts boatsmen because density of air, extra oxygen, enables engines to perform at maximum efficiency. Proof of the engine efficiency factor are the world records set by various classes of motor boats on Salton Sea. Many drivers claim that the density of salt water helps to increase boat speeds.

In the wake of the sportsmen's pent-up demand for adequate facilities at their favorite shore, M. Penn Phillips Co. envisions a multi-million dollar investment at the sports center during the next decade.

The high desert representative for Salton City development information is Monument Realty Co. at Yucca Valley and Twentynine Palms.

NEW DEVICE TESTS HEARING

Children of the Morongo School District are benefiting by the use of a portable audiometer which allows hearing testing of children in the three schools. The Yucca Valley P.T.A., the Twentynine Palms P.T.A. and the school district cooperated in the purchase of the testing equipment.

Thus far, all children of the district, kindergarten through eighth grade, have been screened for hearing losses. Those children who demonstrated a probable loss were retested. Parents are notified in cases where definite losses are discovered.

District Supt. Samuel McElfresh says the services of the P.T.A. through its gift to the school have been greatly appreciated, and the benefit to the children is immeasurable.

Two persons employed by the district, Mrs. Barbara Jackson, school nurse, and David Schalk, psychologist, are trained to use the equipment.

GUESTS

Visiting the Snedekers at their Highland Road home in Morongo Valley over the weekend were their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Ritter of El Monte, and the Ritters' children Bob, Bill, Franklin Lee and Ruth Alice.

The Ritters came to see Yucca Valley's Grubstake Days festival and while they were here, held a picnic lunch at Covington Park in Morongo Valley.

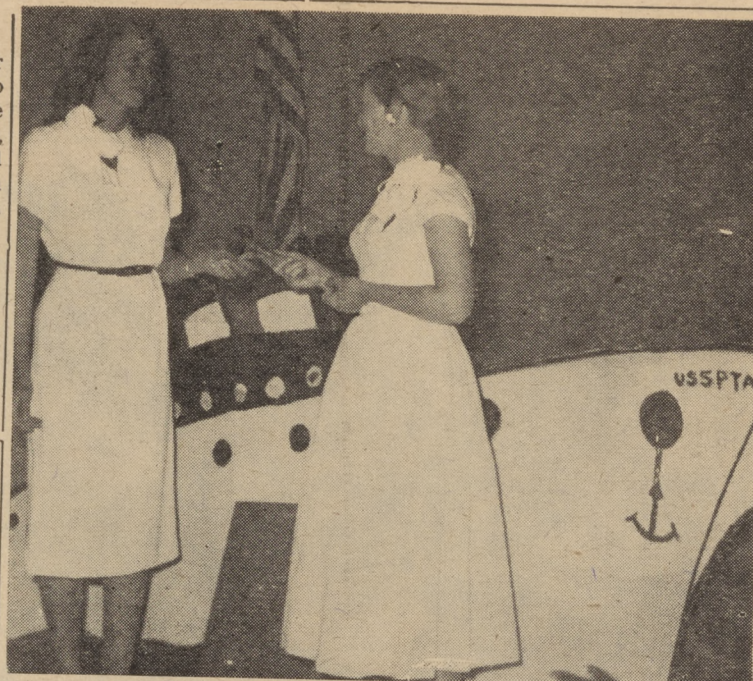

How many people do you know in SHAREVILLE?

You won't find Shareville on any map of the United States, yet you may know many of its citizens. They may be such people as your banker, your milkman or your children's teacher. The citizens of Shareville are owners of the California Water & Telephone Company. If all the shareholders of California Water & Telephone Company moved into your town over night, you would have to make room for 13,000 new families, for your locally managed company has about that many shareholders.

Like you, these owners of California Water & Telephone Company are seriously concerned with keeping the cost of their telephone service at fair rates. As owners, they understandably want their company to operate with a profit that will permit a fair return on their investment, because only a fair return will attract the necessary expansion capital.

The First Grade under Mrs. Green did a skipping dance to the tune of Yankee Doodle. Mrs. Hicks' Second Grade performed the Howdy Do Partner. In correlation with their studies, Mrs. Jeffries' Third Grade class demonstrated a Hopi and Navajo

Indian Dance.

Fourth Graders sang "Three Ships" and "Make America Proud of You." Mrs. Lofgren is the teacher. The fifth graders, under the direction of Mrs. Wright, did the Red River Valley square dance.

ABOUT THE BUILDER!

Our buildings are constructed by D. L. Arrasmith & Sons, Inc., a corporation which has built more than 600 commercial and residential buildings since World War II, in the Pomona-Ontario area. D. L. Arrasmith himself has been a general contractor for 46 years, and has passed his knowledge on to his sons, who are members of the corporation.

Mike Arrasmith, also a general contractor, was building inspector for San Bernardino County for six years, and is now general manager of the corporation.
These builders of IDEAL HOMES are bondable, having sufficient liquid assets to cover any and all buildings under construction. Anyone desiring bonded construction will be accomodated.

In all the history of the corporation there has never been a lein of any kind placed against the Arrasmith Corp., which, in itself, is a remarkable record of dependability. All buildings are built without delay, and workmanship and material are unconditionally guaranteed for a period of one year. Any defect evidenced during that period will be cheerfully and promptly corrected.

SEE AL PETERS & ASSOC-IATES for more complete information.

ALLEY-bi vs. alibi . . .
ANY EXCUSE seems O.K. with some folks as long as they THINK THEY CAN GET BY WITH IT. An alibi is like ducking down an alley instead of taking the open road. Husbands duck into floral shops "on occasion" trying to find "something to go with a weak alibi."
If you want to sell your house, lot, acreage, business building, any type of property . . . you have no reason to create an alibi for not calling on MONU-

Beverly Gale Roberts this week was wed to Marine Sgt. Harry Leslie, who is now stationed at Barstow. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts of Yucca Valley.

The wedding took place in the Community Hall with Rev. Dave Hansen officiating. The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the little Community Church Chapel.

The bride wore a white bridal gown with a fingertip veil. The groom wore dress blues. The bridal gown was made by Francis, the tailor of Yucca Valley.

Best man was Sam Hines. Midge Tunstall was maid of honor. Her two bridesmaids were Suzy Fowler and Sara Tissue. Groom attendants were Bill Roberts and James Chuman.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, and the bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink carnations. Mrs. Laura Webb was organist. The couple will reside in Barstow as long as he is stationed there.

Hilda Hardesty was elected president of the Yucca Valley Dandee Lions for the coming year at a meeting held at the Wagon Wheel Drive In Cafe May 19.

The Dandee Lions, celebrating their first birthday this month, also elected: Vi Ray, vice president; Betty Huntsman, secretary-treasurer; Muriel Perrin, song leader; Fern Cuddihy, publicity, and Emily Howell, nickel nabber.

In addition to those mentioned, members who enjoyed the chicken dinner and song fest following the meeting were: Gussie Sothmann, Edith Howell, Rose Tripodo, Edyth Bassel and daughter, Toby, Val Boldizar, Dottie Tunstall, Betty Erishmann, Maude Landgraff, Marge Laumann, Chris Hammett, Evelyn Durant, Pat Cummings, Edith Howland, and new member Bertha Applier. Mrs. Mera Ray was guest for the day.

Dash, won by 10-year-old Lee Leonard, driving car No. 10. In quick succession, six heats were run off, being won by: 1st heat, Kenny Balch; 2nd heat, Danny Harris; 3rd heat, Randy Newell; 4th heat, Steve Barnett; 5th heat, Teddy Larson, and 6th heat, Danny Coggins.

The first consolation race was won by Kenny Balch, who gave his trophy to little Skipper Kozminski. The second consolation race was won by Dave Harris.

Following the second consolation race was a special race which was won by Becky Tucker. The semi main event was won by Lorrie Spinak, with Bill Schultz coming in second and Dave Dickell taking third place.

The main event saw eight cars at the start and only one of them finish. The event was won by Dixie Dixon, driving car No. 116.

The Dad's Race, just for laughs, was won by Sam Harris.

It was a grand show and the perfect finale for a weekend of spectacular weather, colorful costumes and hard riding men and women and children who made the eighth celebration of Grubstake Days a great success.
